FRAMED WORKS

1

Late C19th Sailors Woolwork Picture of a Ship RMS Ruapehu, starboard side view under steam coming into harbour with three ships to the fore one under steam. The RMS Ruapehu was built 1900-01 by William Denny & Bros at Dumbarton Scotland for the New Zealand Shipping Co, Ltd. She was 7,705 tons and as built she offered accommodations for 340 passengers, in three classes as well as steerage.
50 x 80cm

2

Mid C19th Sailors Woolwork Picture of Ships off the Sussex Coast portside view of fully dressed sailing ship with White Star Line ensign and other ship the 'Owers' with merchant navy ensign. Probably embroidered by a member of the crew of The Trinity House Light Vessel, c.1870
44 x 61cm
$600 - $1,000

3

Mid C19th Sailor's Woolwork Picture of a Ship HMS Pique, a port side view at anchor with five ships to the fore, three under steam. HMS Pique was a wooden fifth-rate sailing frigate of the Royal Navy, designed by Sir William Symonds. She was launched on 21 July 1834 at Devonport. The vessel was of 1,633 tons burthen and had 36 guns. She was broken up in 1910.

5

C19th British
The Cutter Alarm Crosses the Line c.1830
oil on canvas
46 x 76cm
This painting shows the Cutter 'Alarm' crossing the line ahead of Lord Belfast's Cutter 'Louisa'. This is one of the earliest paintings of a regatta. It can be accurately dated from Squadron records between 1829 & 1832. The Cutters are identified by their racing pennants. The 'Alarm' was owned by Mr Joseph Weld. He owned estates in Dorset & it was a member of his family who came to Marlborough, New Zealand, and founded Flaxbourne Station with Mr Clifford. So Marlborough has a direct link with the beginnings of yachting.
Coves is still the centre of British yachting. It was here the America's Cup, then known as the Guinea Cup, was won by the schooner yacht 'America' in a race around the Isle of Wight in 1851.
$2,000 - $4,000

10

Mid C19th British
The Fleet off Spithead c. 1845
watercolour
41 x 59cm
This water shows the Squadron of the Red on fleet exercises, probably off Portsmouth at Spithead. The Flag Ship is a First Rate (over 110 guns), and she is "hove to" with her foremast sails backed. She is flying the hoist 165 which from the 1853 naval code book means "in want of powder". The second Rate (80-110 guns) is also "hove to" with the sails on the mainmast backed. Perhaps they are about to exercise a transfer of ammunition. All the vessels seem to be in a fairly close quarter situation.
$1,000 - $2,000

14

Edward Wilkinson (British fl. 1880-91)
The Sail and Steam Vessel 'Britannia' gouache on paper
signed (lower left)
28.5 x 55.5cm
Britannia was built in the 1870s by Short Bros. of Sunderland for Taylor & Sanderson. She was one of a fleet of vessels known as 'Black Sea Traders'. Their trade was coal from the North East Coast to Italy, thence in Ballast through the Bosphorus to Black Sea Ports. Here they loaded grain for their return to British Ports. Engines were triple expansion steam giving a speed of 9 knots on 14 tons of coal per day.
