Austen, Jane - Northanger Abbey and Persuasion (4 Volumes), By The Author Of "Pride And Prejudice," " Mansfield Park," etc. With A Biographical Notice Of The Author. John Murray, London, 1818.
 Condition; general conditions throughout, scuffed boards, foxing, staining and dirt marks, occasional creasing where pages were folded. Each volume is inscribed on the upper fly-leaf by what looks like I. B. Stewart, Delliefure (Scotland) 1921. Each title page is signed A. G. Stevenson, 1818. Volume 1 is complete, though the half-title Northanger Abbey is damaged on the fore-edge (leaf A11). There is some underlining on pages 163 and 164, with a related comment along the outer margin on page 163 that reads :The world has not changed one whit 1921" presumably written by Stewart. Leaf L6 is slightly damaged on the lower edge near the inner margin. Volumes II to IV are incomplete, each lacking their half-title. Volume II, 14 similar damage to the leaf as L6 in Vol I. Looks to be slightly folded under. O1 has what might be called an unidentified accretion in the upper right corner. Volume III, K11 and K12, minor chipping, L6 and L7 another unidentified accretion, appears oil based. Volume IV, H10 torn and missing part of fore-edge but no loss to the text. Written on the verso of the final blank is :a grand story", which looks to be Stewart again. 19th century half leather bindings and although not the original (would have been paper covered boards) and later ,certainly not by much.
 An exceptionally rare, iconic and complete first edition, completed in 1803, the first of Austens novels completed in full but published posthumously in 1817 with Persuasion.
 We are indebted to Anthony Tedeschi, Head of Rare Books & Manuscripts at The Alexander Turnbull Library for his assistance in collating the set.

Lord Horatio Nelson - Rare Full Handwritten Letter From August 28th 1798, The document shows Nelson giving a short answer to a complaint over the seizure of a Genoese vessel and is headed Vanguard at Sea Aug 28th 1798. The letter is likely his draft for his clerk, and is written with his left hand, he had lost his right arm a year earlier having been wounded by cannon shot at Tenerife. Signed Horatio Nelson lower right. This was a constant hazard to naval officers of the period and Nelson, who was then in the Mediterranean no doubt remembered the unpleasantness when he was a captain in the West Indies during the American War of Independence and seized many West Indian vessels on suspicion of their illegal commerce with the Americans.
